RE: Legislative Action Relating to Docket 02-0689

Senator David Sullivan recently introduced legislation, Senate Bill 1056, that would amend the Public Utility Act, Section 13-301.2 and exempt the imposition of the requirements of that Section on end-users subscribing to the following services:

- .Private line service which is not directly or indirectly used for the origination or termination of switched telecommunications service
- .Cellular radio service
- .High speed point to point data transmission
- .The provision of telecommunication service by a company or person otherwise subject to subsection (c) of Section 13-202 to a telecommunications carrier, which is incidental to the provision of service subject to subsection (c) of Section 13-202
- .Pay telephone service
- .Interexchange telecommunications services

At this time, SB 1056 has been referred to the Senate Rules Committee. I anticipate that the bill will be assigned to the Senate Environment and Energy Committee within the next couple of weeks. I will keep you informed as the bill proceeds through the legislative approval process. In the interim, the status of the bill can be tracked through the Legislative Reference Bureau's website @ www.legis.state.il.us
